- Guard your “I AM” ...
because it is sacred.
It is not just language—
it is the voice of being itself.
- We are the Beloved.
Created in, with, and as the Divine Image.
- And from that place...
we are given the power of mind and speech
to speak truth from the heart,
not from fear,
not from separation,
but from unity.
- When we speak from that place...
our words do not try to become true—
they carry truth.
- Guard your “I AM” ...
- because it is holy ground.
- Every time you speak it,
you are not just forming a sentence—
you are releasing identity into form.
- _____
- We are not speaking as broken beings
trying to become whole.
- We are the Beloved...
created in the Divine Image,
held within it,
expressing from it.
- _____
- And from that place,
we have been given something extraordinary—

- the power of mind...
- ---
- Not to defend ourselves.
Not to diminish ourselves.
Not to repeat old stories...
- But to speak truth
from the heart.
- ---
- Because the heart knows unity.
- The heart does not speak in shame.
The heart does not speak in separation.
- The heart speaks in alignment with what has always been true.
- ---
- When you say “I AM” ...
- pause.
- Feel where you are speaking from.
- ---
- Are you speaking from memory...
or from truth?
- From fear...
or from the light you are?
- ---
- Because when your words rise
from the heart in unity...
- they do not search for power.
- They carry it.
- ---
- And in that moment...
- you are not trying to create your life.
- You are expressing it
from the Divine Image
- you have never been separated from.

MASTERMIND

I am pure awareness, one with all life.

- • “My ‘I AM’ is not casual—it is creative.”
- • “I do not speak to become—I speak from being.”
- • “My words carry the authority of where they originate.”
- • “I speak from the heart, where unity is already established.”
